We were once young and together we grew
as we shared our problems.
We stumbled, we fell,
and we learned how to stand up
all over again—together.
It was our place
for chasing butterflies—
gazing at rainbows—
and watching leaves fall.
We suffered alone
but only together—as one—were we able to blossom into the depth of each other's soul.
We lived—closing our eyes
on ugliness, hatred, and scorn, pretending to see only the other's joy, happiness and love.
With these memories now,
we carry loneliness
we try to remember the time—and the place where we had shared warmth
But all we saw was the end of the dreams—
the dreams we had learned to believe in like the echoes of an empty canyon.
Our new life
is ready to swallow us up and through this end we see a beginning With only a reflection of each other's life— shadowing it . . .

It is a time for being young, free,
for building minds, grasping dreams

Central Catholic, sometimes known as a "melting pot", includes 1,033 students of different class, religion and race, which tend to influence the personality of the school.

Fr. Isenbarger, after a six year absence, spent his first year at CC as principal, sharing in the problems as well as the successes of the student body.

Among the accomplishments of Central Catholic, was the organization of a new team and different clubs. Baseball was introduced into the curriculum and was coached by Mr. Ron Stanski.

Before the ski club was established by Mr. Raymond some kids never attempted to ski. But after four opportunities to visit different ski resorts, over 100 students had the chance to experiment with their skill at skiing.

The Afro-American club, sponsored by Sr. Ellen Howard, gave the students an awareness of the contributions and cultures made by the Black Americans.

A new look has been taken on at CC, as paint has brushed the aged walls from 1938, and pictures of victorious Irish teams were hung in the halls in the summer of 1969.

CC students awaken to new fashions; add style to aura

CCHS presents the "Animal Farm"

The '69-'70 fall play, Animal Farm, was a dramatic reading directed and produced by Alois P. Buchheit. Double parts of the animals were portrayed by seniors Pat Herber, Joel Linker, Don Smith, Tim Wagner, John Palmer, and juniors Phyllis LeMaine and Ralph Bonasiak. Original music for the reading was written by Bill Hamman and Mr. Martin Tierney, and played by Beth Hamilton on varied percussion instruments and Bill on guitar.

The set was designed by Mr. Tierney and constructed by a group of senior boys. The costumes for Animal Farm were designed and made by Miss Yvonne Wagner. The sound equipment was engineered by Herm Schnelker and operated by John Gardlik. The new system made it possible for several microphones to be used on the stage at one time. The several crews consisted of numbers of CC students who donated many hours in the preparation of the reading.

Animal Farm was presented on November 8, 9, and 10 in the CC auditorium.

Students join together in Eucharistic offering

We will walk with each other
We will walk hand and hand.
And together we'll spread the news that God is in our land.
And they'll know that we're Christians
by our love,
Yes, they'll know that we're Christians
by our love.

Bonfire initiates '69 Homecoming, reflects CC spirit

A week full of excitement and a class full of enthusiasm were the ingredients which went into the brewing of the 1969-70 Homecoming weekend.

A bonfire on October 2 introduced the Homecoming festivities with skits, cheers, the announcing of the court and songs played by CC's pep band.

The spotlight turned to Diane Ealing during halftime, as she was declared Homecoming queen of 1969.

Following the parade to CC's gym, the student body danced to the "Blue Agony."

CC Field Director, Georjean Hazelton, leads the band in "1812 Overture Routine," during homecoming festivities.

Bill Daugherty livens up the bonfire crowd with his intoxicating charm, as he participates in the bonfire skit.

Members of the 1969 Homecoming court are juniors, Carole Shaffer, Barb Fronze, 1969 queen, Dione Eoling, 1968 queen Viola Rodriquez, and seniors Sharon Johnson and Debbe Walker.

CC pep rallys motivate victorys

Bleachers are rapidly overtaken by students and classroom doors are closed by the second. Hands keep time and chaos is muffled by voices singing "Onward CC". This is the setting of a typical Irish pep session.

Rip-roaring chants such as two bits, competition, "Song of India," "We're Off," and CCHS are among the favorites of everyone and tend to create a sensational element of excitement for spirited fans.

Skits, cheers, pep talks and the school songs are provided at every assembly due to the long hours of planning by the varsity cheerleaders and various students.

Coach Youngpeter commends the Fighting Irish on their spirit and determination throughout the year.

Jim Orth, and Mark Lindsay, junior band members, play "Song of India" for an animated pep rally.

"Windmills of Your Mind" announces Georjean Hazelton 1970 prom queen

"Windmills of Your Mind" was chosen as the theme of the class of 1970 for their Senior Prom.

Under the direction of Pete Fisher and Lucy Avila, a Mass was held at Saint Mary's Catholic Church preceding the prom, and the after-prom dance at the Hoagland Hayloft.

The prom was held at the Fort Wayne Women's Club with the Blue Impressions providing the music.

During the course of the evening the prom-court was announced which consisted of Georjean Hazelton, queen, Debbie Walker, Vicki Betts, Cathy Craighead, Dianne Ealing, and Marita Oetting.

Committee heads included: decoration, Jean Reville; tickets, Barb Nix and Jim Girardot; clean-up, Paul Hayden; publicity, Mary Jo Johnson; and refreshments, Margie Imler.

Baccalaureate Mass. Dinner for graduates

The Baccalaureate Mass and Dinner, sponsored by the CC Mother's club, was held May 27, in honor of the 1970 graduating seniors of CC.

Initiating the evening, was the 4:30 mass at the Immaculate Conception. Monsignor Faber offered the Holy Eucharist with Mr. Joseph Woods and Mr. John Yonkman providing the music.

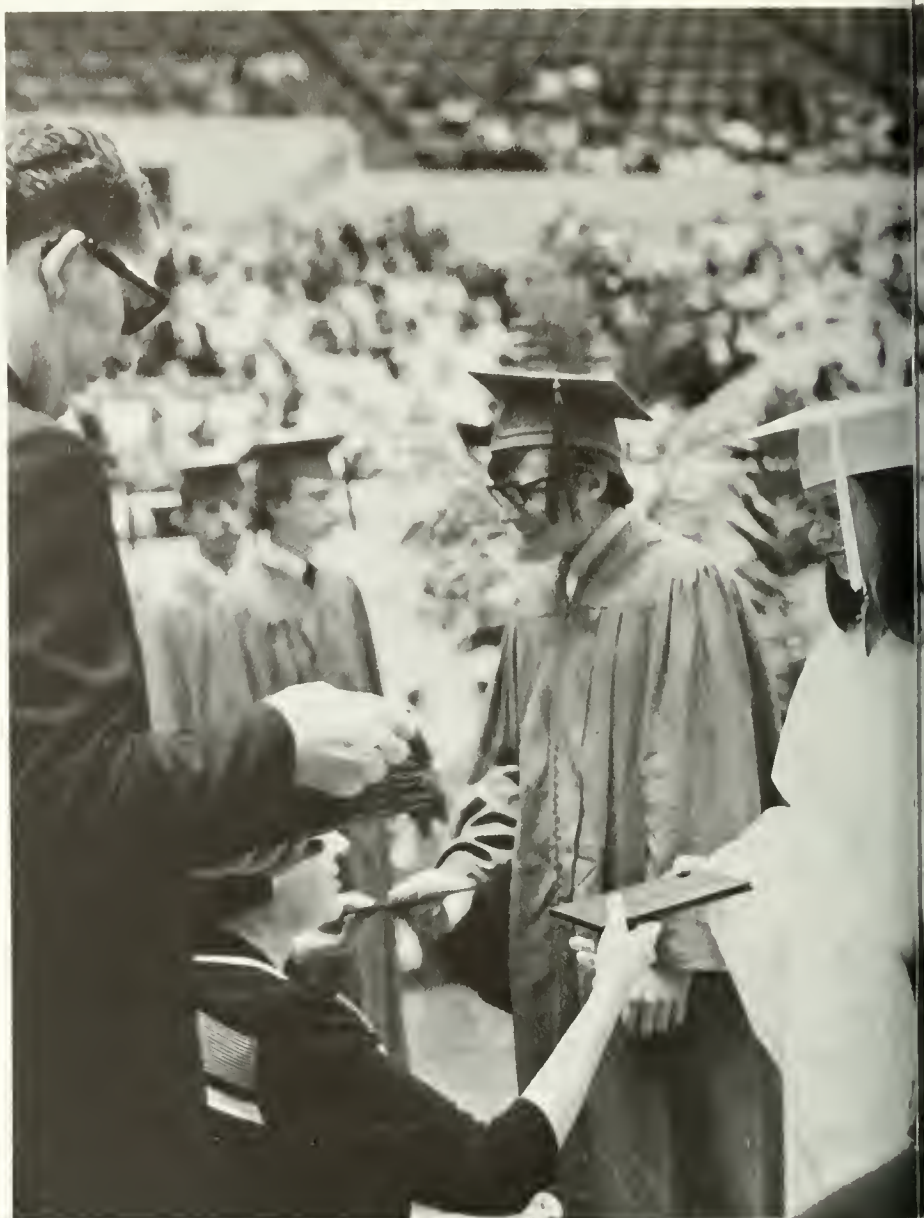

The Baccalaureate Dinner, at the Scottish Rite Banquet Hall, immediately followed the mass. After the dinner, Mrs. William Offerle, president of the Mother's Club, offered her congratulations to the graduating class with words from Pete Fisher and Father Isenbarger following. Most Reverend Leo A. Pursley, also on hand, concluded the evening.

attain titles Valedictorian, Salutatorian

Commencement exercises for the seniors of Central Catholic took place at the Memorial Coliseum on May 31, 1970.

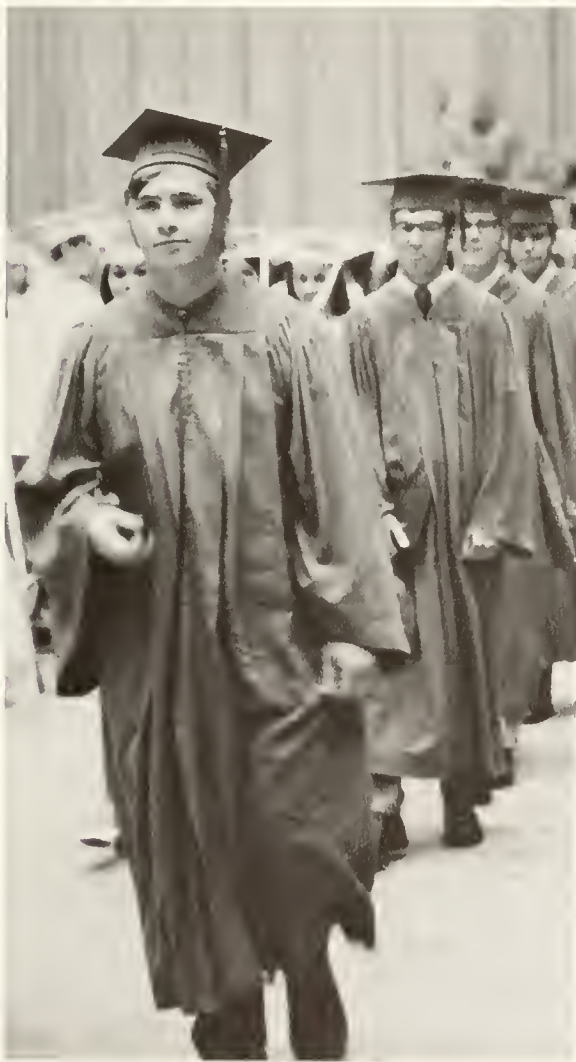

Father Donald Isenbarger, representing the seniors, commented on the various schools the graduates were to attend in the near future.

John Palmer immediately followed, giving his speech as salutatorian. Edward Albert Dugan, president of Indiana Institute of Technology, presented his congratulations to the class graduates.

After the speeches was the conferring of diplomas to a class of 259. Nearing the end of the ceremony, 55 awards or scholarships were received from Monsignor Lester.

Mary Winicker, speaking as Valedictorian of the class, closed the afternoon exercises. The seniors then departed for the last time as the "Class of '70".

With their diploma in hand, Jim Mowan, Billy McAfee, Steve Popenbrock, and Tony Gallegos leave the Coliseum.

Individual talents contribute finesse to spring musical

"Benjamin Franklin in Paris" was the spring musical comedy performed by the Central Catholic students and directed by Mr. Martin Tierney on May 1, 2, and 3 in the CC auditorium. The stage crew was under the direction of Mr. Alois Buchheit and costumes were provided by Mary Beth Imler. Mrs. Jean Marcus and Nancy Freehill supplied the music as pianists.

Don Smith performed as Benjamin Franklin while Georjean Hazelton played his opposite as Diane. Mark Gensic and Jodi Bigos performed minor roles as Temple and Janine.

The setting was in Paris, France during the eighteenth century at the time of King Louis XVI, played by George Geary. Other actors were Paul Hayden, Gary Franze, Marty Farrell, Jackie Robinson, Denny Gorman, John Gardlik, Ron Wyatt and Keith Bobay.

"Japan Expo '70" was the theme of the 1970 Culturomo on May 17, held in the Central Catholic Clinton room.

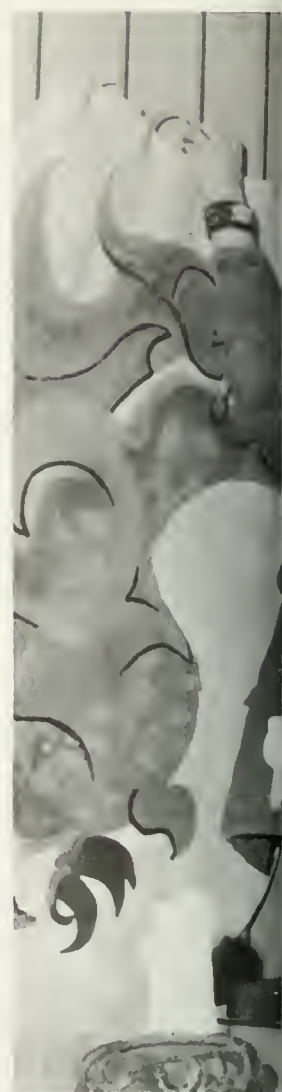

Mrs. Mary Lou Lomont and Father Hank Mascotte acted as co-chairmen in planning for the festivities.

Skits, displays, dialogue, and singing were presented by the French and Latin Clubs with the Music Department presenting the concert choir, string orchestra, and stage band I for additional entertainment.

Students from the art club, Terry Kiester, Sue Geary and Kent Linker are some of the people involved in setting things up the preceding day.

New reading lab lends opportunity to broaden skills

English teachers and their classes were presented with a new outlook in teaching this year when CC opened its new reading lab. Under the guidance of Sister Mary E. Lane, head of the English department, the lab was readied for completion during the summer and the first few weeks of school. Equipped with shadowsopes and film projectors donated by Central High School, the reading lab is open to all English teachers and their classes who wish to profit from it. Each day students are given an opportunity to broaden their vocabulary and better their reading skills.

Sister Pat heads CC Math departments; concentration and interests developed

The Math Department forged ahead in various directions this year, with Sister Pat McCarthy at its head. The Freshman math teachers initiated a Math Club designed to sharpen their math skills by talking over the more difficult problems in their Algebra classes. Sister Julie Kramer acted as moderator.

Sophomores were given a compass and protractor as they concentrated on Geometry. Juniors tackled the intricate problems of Advanced Algebra while seniors worked with vector equations and many aspects of trigonometry.

Individual teachers and students have taken extra courses during the year in order to strengthen their math skills. The honors program used at CC also enables students to take advantage of increased study. Many students are also taking summer courses on new math topics.

Central proposes opportunities in technical crafts

Through the graciousness of the administration of Central High School, CC students were again permitted to attend classes and workshops in many technical arts.

Drafting classes under Mr. Todd designed nuts, bolts, and C-clamps among many other things and drew up the blueprints. The blueprints were used later by the drafting classes to make the objects designed. Also during the year, boys were asked to make shut-off valves for the gas company.

Auto mechanics students under Mr. Surber were required to disassemble and rebuild a carburetor as well as the six main systems.

Mr. Rian's wood classes allowed students their choice of objects such as cedar chests, bookends, and candlesticks to make. Welding classes learned the basic skills of repair work and soldering under the watchful eyes of Mr. O'Brien. CC students seem to find it beneficial to take these classes.

World government is contemplated in Social Studies

World Culture, U.S. History, Government and Social Ethics courses make up the Social Studies Department. Progressing through four years, students study the important factors in the major countries of the world, the history of our nation, and the basis of our American government. The current events of the day were stressed in every class.

During freshman year the students engaged in a study of the geography, people, products and the form of government of major countries.

A thorough study of U.S. History provides the juniors with a knowledge of the past events of our country. Current events are frequently discussed.

Through the government course, the seniors learn about the executive, the legislative and the judicial branches of our nation.

Films, speakers, student reports, and field trips are methods used in Social Ethics which help seniors become more aware of the conditions in their city and country.

Religion teachers instruct students in complex world

Freshmen religion students were introduced to the course of Guidance Orientation taught by Mrs. Dan Loney, Father Patterson, Father Durkin, and Father Tirabassi.

After studying Biblical Literature, sophomores learned to apply its teachings to modern life. Sister Mary Griffith, Father Mueller and Father Kaers taught sophomores.

Juniors began a new phase, the foundation having been formed in their first two years, and concentrated on preparing to face the world as Christian adults. Sister Mary E. Lane and Mr. Dan Loney were the instructors of Christian Civilization for juniors.

Seniors tried various approaches to analyzing marriage, and the conflicts it faces today. Marriage was taught by Father Wolker, Father Carkenord, Father Lisek, and Father Sadawski.

Field of Science broadens; includes study of Physics

The Science Department added a new class this year. Mr. Larry Raymond, teaching Physics, introduced to almost sixty seniors the basis of electricity and mechanics.

Chemistry students studied the various chemical and physical properties of different elements along with radioactivity and nuclear reactions. Lab experiments, under the observation of Sister Julie Kramer, included generating hydrogen and oxygen, and the titration of acids and bases.

Biology classes met with the dissecting of animals during lab sessions. Through Sr. Marie Verdeyan and Mr. Wiedemier, Biology students received a keen insight to plant and animal life.

Girls conceive homemaking ideas

Mastering domestic skills, improving personalities, and becoming mature young women are several of the goals of the Homemaking Department.

Sophomores and juniors develop their skills in sewing from such basic items as skirts, and blouses to fully lined coats and suits. Cooking classes offer the opportunity to learn many new recipes, as well as lessons in how to eat and serve properly.

Art Classes study, create sculptures

The Art Department was under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Lou Lomont and Father Hank Mascotte.

Creativity and imagination were stressed while undertaking projects such as ceramic pots and watercoloring. The art students were introduced by Mrs. Lomont, to the four basic design elements; line, form, color, and texture.

Father Mascotte's classes ventured into creating linoleum prints, sculptures and black and white drawings using India ink and charcoal.

Speed, accuracy stressed; classes progress steadily

Possibly the largest department at Central Catholic is the Business Department. Headed by Sister Mary Roberto and assisted by Mr. Paul Ryan, students learned typing, record keeping, and shorthand. Students taking this course were taught correct business procedure and were given tips for job hunting and interviews. Speed and accuracy was stressed at all times.

The Business Department was also responsible for the weekly student bulletin.

Agility stressed in gym classes

Co-ordination and sportsmanship, along with physical fitness are among the important characteristics taught in freshman gym classes.

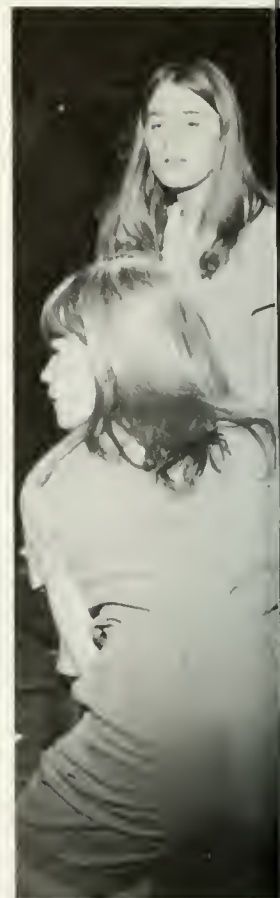

Girls undertake sessions in volleyball, tumbling, basketball and exercise to improve co-ordination of mind and body as one.

Boys fight out games of warball and basketball in sessions spiked with frequent exercise therapy.

Regular inspection for cleanliness is also a feature of the classes taught by Miss Heighway and Coach Edwards.

Gary Fronze, social chairman, helped to organize all the after game dances. Ralph Banasiak filled the post as vice president, with Mickey Rosswurm in charge of all monetary responsibilities as treasurer. Becky Banasiak assumed the duties as secretary and kept up all correspondences.

Other duties of the council included the care of the Clinton Street sign, preparation for masses and sponsoring booths at the Red Cross Carnival and Christ Child Festival.

A complete revision of the constitution also kept the elected homeroom representatives busy.

CC's four best performers go to 'State'

"1812" was the slogan of this year's CCHS Golden Shamrock Marching Band as members displayed their newly acquired skills in precision drill marching. Band members had to master the new techniques of the Casavant drill, which consisted of changing from a left foot to a right foot band.

With the new style of marching came the debut of Georjean Hazelton as CC's first girl field director.

The Symphonic Band Concert, under Mr. Joseph Woods, featured soloists and ensembles which received first place ratings in the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. music contest. Four of these soloists; Beth Hamilton, Dianne Lomont, Rick Brown, and Jim Orth qualified for state competition at Indianapolis, February 21, 1970.

Orchestra mixes Mozart, Mancini in performances

Individual practice and study was an important factor in the organization of this year's String and Symphonic Orchestras. The music concert season was begun November 14 by the orchestra as they filled the gym with highlights from "Camelot" and many Mancini favorites.

Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Woods the String Orchestra joined in the yuletide cheer to present a selection of carols for the annual Christmas Concert, December 14. They also performed at the Choral Concert March 13.

The main event of the year for the orchestra was April 11, as they traveled to Manchester College for a music festival. Participating every year, the orchestra members are given sound tips and encouragement, plus the experience of playing under various directors.

The orchestra made their final appearance May 7, at the Festival of Catholic Music Education which was held in the CC auditorium.

Experience, entertainment are main interest of each CC stage band

Students of all classes constituted the two stage bands of 1970 at Central Catholic.

The first stage band perfected such songs as "Diggin' Roots" and "Imagination" as their entries in the N.I.S.B.O.B.A. Stage Band Contest. Also entering was the stage band number two, as they rocked with "Somebody to Watch Over You" and "Everybody's Rockin'".

Both stage bands presented contest entries at the Symphonic Band Concert, February 15. The first stage band provided music for the Music Parent Club dance, sponsored in order to raise funds for the department.

Varsity Chorus

exercise quality

Voice quality and control were exercised by the Varsity Chorus and Concert Choir of 1970, as they performed November 14 at the Orchestra and Choral Concert.

The efforts of the chorus were displayed at the annual Christmas Concert on December 14 as they sang the cantata "This is Noel". During the Christmas season, the chorus performed carols at Lincoln National Bank and before Bishop Pursley. They were also asked to entertain at a few parishes.

January 31, choral students participated in the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. contest, receiving superior and excellent ratings.

The choral concert, March 13, featured various soloists along with such numbers as "County Fair" and "Get on Board".

Shamrock claims first place rating; Emanon evolves

The Shamrock staff, headed by editors-in-chief, Debi Marquart and Earl Bercot, attained a first place rating from the National Scholastic Press Association for 1970. Kathy Behrns and Julie Henkenius contributed freshness and imagination in the planning of the Shamrock through the news and editorials. Journalistic layouts were achieved by staff members: Mary Verstynen, Pat Herber, Sandy Hart and Jeanne Schnurr. The advisor was Mrs. Pam Thomas.

Literary compositions consisting of poems, short stories, photography, art and sonnets, were submitted by the CC students. Of these, the best were published in Central Catholic's first literary magazine, the Emanon. Debi Marquart and Kathy Behrns were accredited with this accomplishment.

CC's Pep Clubs classify Irishmen as number one

Uniform white blouses with a newly chosen official pep club pin was the scene at all local sport activities as planned by Margie Imler, who acted as president. A better organized boys cheer section was a successful addition this year.

Denny Allen, alias 'Spook' led both blocks as CC's very own Clancy. Donned from head to toe in green, Clancy wore the brand new head made by Fr. Mascotte and a leprechaun outfit sewn by the pep club under the direction of the president and Mary Giant.

The sewing of an official banner of purple and gold for CC was undertaken and completed with much work done by Mrs. Miller.

Afro American Club commences

A new club this year was the Afro American Club. It met several times a month, discussing and learning about the black men in History. Many times the club heard the opinions of a guest speaker, who was able to come and talk to the group.

A major activity, another first, was an Afro fashion show put on to model the "in" dress for that time. The scene was the gym, appropriately decorated for the event.

Projectors, record players, tapes, films, recorders; all these were handled again this year by the Projection Club. Organizing the schedules and planning for the showings was done by Sister Mary Terese, who acted as moderator.

The actual running of the films and tapes were done by junior and senior men who offer their free time to help.

Sister Mary Terese also moderated the junior and senior girls of the Library Club. The club kept records, files and the shelves in good running order. Members of the club gave up their study periods to checking out books, collecting fines and library clearing. Sister taught the girls techniques and the functions of running a library.

This year the library required much more attention in that it was changed into the study hall to give the students greater accessibility to their needs than room 200.

Fightin' Irishmen set new scoring records for 1969

Central Catholic's football teams set several school records for 1969. The varsity, led by co-captains Jon Stanski and Ron Wyatt, racked up a 74-8 victory over Wawasee, a school scoring record. In that same game, Steve Hensinger set an individual TD mark of 6. The reserve team had a commendable record of 4-1. Playing in severe weather, they outscored their five opponents 97-22.

The frosh team won CC's third straight parochial freshman championship. They set a new school record by being unbeaten and unscored upon.

Irish finish strong

Coach Leon Youngpeter called the 1969-70 fighting Irish squad one of the most determined to win roundball teams he had coached.

Senior Paul Hayden was named to the Fort Wayne All-City team while his teammates seniors Steve Krouse and Gary Franze were named to the All-Diocesan Squad.

The Irish entered the sectional with an unimpressive 7-12 record but went on and defeated Carrol and New Haven High Schools before falling to the sectional champions Fort Wayne North Side.

First Irish baseball team claims Sectional, Regional, Championship

Central Catholic made a winning effort in its first year of baseball setting a seasonal record of 13-12 and capturing the Sectional and Regional titles.

CC reached the title game by eliminating Leo, 3-2, and Carroll 4-3. Steve Krouse, hurling a one-hit shut out, led the Irish in defeating Heritage 7-0, claiming their first Sectional Baseball Tournament crown.

Regional play included a 6-3 win over Columbia and a 7-6 defeat handed to West Noble. South Bend Clay, with a 36-3 record, ousted the CC baseball team from the Semi-State Baseball Tournament with a 7-0 win.

Irishmen cited for the All Sectional team were Steve Krouse, pitcher, Jon Stanski, catcher, Bill McAfee, second baseman, Larry Block, short stop, and Larry Gerardot, outfielder.

All-Regional team members from CC were pitchers Larry Gerardot, holding a 5-3 record and a 2.78 earn-run average, with Steve Krouse. Steve claimed 6 wins out of 9 games and an earn-run average of 1.28. Terry Christman gained recognition as third baseman along with John Hake outfielder.

Irish golf team meets sudden death; loses trip to regionals

CC's golf team, coached by Dan Edwards, wound up the year with a 5-8 record finishing third in the city.

Victories in city play were hung over Carroll, Dwenger, Concordia and Central twice. Luers, North Side Snyder, Bellmont, handed the linksters a loss. Elmhurst and South Side defeated them twice.

Central Catholic met up with North Side in sectional play. A sudden death halted the rivalry giving North the right to go to regionals.

Dave Hueber, with an average of 35.9, set city high school record with 32, four under par. He also was runner up in state finals at Indianapolis.

Sam Till held a 39.8 average followed by Tom Till with a 42 average. Rick Kumfer shot a 43, Marty Farrell a 49, and Louie Harber a 50 average.

Concern with time about to run out is expressed by the CCHS varsity cheerleaders.

Pep squad brings home new cheers, ideas, more spirit

Central Catholic's 1969-70 varsity cheerleaders traveled to George Williams College, Wisconsin on July 22, 1969, to begin the three day session of cheerleading camp. By July 25, they merited the first place trophy reigning over 52 other squads.

Five ribbons and two trophies were attained by seniors Lucy Avila, Sharon Johnson, Sue Kiester, Jodi Bigos, captain, and Sue Ann Toderan, junior.

Jodi was cited as the most talented individual after performing a ballet to "Love Theme of Romeo and Juliet."

New cheers, skits, ideas for pep sessions and homecoming were brought home by the five cheerleaders along with techniques to better the squad.

Having prepared a pom pom routine throughout the summer months, the cheerleaders were ready to perform at the basketball games at the sound of "No Matter What Shape Your Stomach's In".

Lucy, Sharon, and Jodi represented the student body as they carried the Central Catholic banner before the marching band in the Memorial Day Parade.

CC cheerleaders attain title of USCA team champions, first place trophy

Varsity cheerleader's Sue Ann Todoron, Jodi Bigos, Lucy Avilla, Sharon Johnson, and Sue Keister exhibit spirit which leads the cheer block.

Pete Fisher leads seniors into final year

Pete Fisher, president, Marty Farrell, vice-president, Lucy Avila, secretary, and Paul Hayden, treasurer, led the Senior class into its final year at CC. Sister Marilyn Herber and Mr. Martin Tierney were moderators.

The first major undertaking of the class was the organization of Homecoming activities. This included a bonfire and pep session, half-time ceremonies, and a dance.

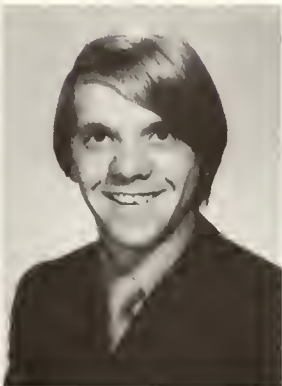

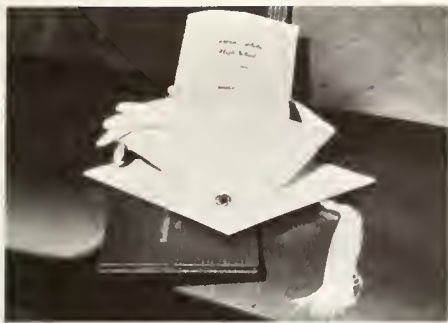

The CC gym was transformed into a coffee house on December 21, setting the scene for a hootenanny sponsored by the class of 1970.

"Windmills on Your Mind" was the theme of the Senior prom, held on May 23.

Class day was May 25. The will, history, and prophecy of the class were read, and several skits and songs presented.

Junior class officers are Larry Block, treasurer, Rasanne Freistraffer, secretary, Trinita Derlashan, vice-president, and Mike Budenz, president.

Graduates of '71 obtain class rings

Elected president, Mike Budenz led the class of '71 in projects throughout the year. Assisting Mike were Trinita Derloshon, vice-president, Rasanne Freistroffer, secretary, and Larry Block, treasurer. Sister Anne Lantine and Mr. Don Ryan acted as moderators.

For their enthusiasm during Homecoming week the Juniors were awarded CC's spirit stick. The homecoming float, which was made together with the Sophomore class, consisted of a giant football resting on a green and gold field.

Aquamarine was the color chosen for ring sets to represent the unity of the class. To exemplify their support of CC, the juniors spent a day selling Seaway Candy. Their efforts resulted in over 250 units sold.

"A Time for Us" was the theme of the Junior Prom held April 11, at Club Olympia.

Heading the Class of 1972 are Ignatius Freiburger, president; Sue Thorne, vice-president; Ann Buchheit, secretary; and Nancy Freehill, treasurer.

Individuals achieved excellence as they entered upon their second year at CC. Kathy Escabeda placed first in the 1969 Candy Drive, selling $431 worth of candy and choosing the $200 cash prize.

Rosemarie and George Machlan were presented with a citizenship award by Mayor Zeis.

Tackle Felix Ortiz was named to the All City Football Team. Felix was the only Sophomore in the city so honored.

John Thorpe, 6'3" center, played a major role in Irish basketball successes.

"Spring Fantasy", was the theme of the April 18 sack hop, sponsored by the sophomores.

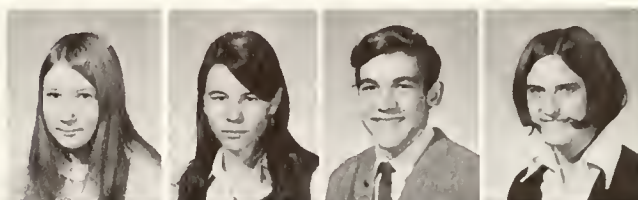

Accompanying the string ensemble for a First Friday Mass is Marvin Billingsley. He also performs in the Orchestra and in Stage Band I.

Freshmen embark the challenging road to distinction

Tim Hake led this year's Freshman class as they assumed their roles as CC'ers. Working with him were Dan Rosswurm, vice-president; Herman Haffner, secretary; and Pat Girardot, treasurer. Acting as moderators were Sister Mary Richard Griffith and Mr. Edward.

Projects included bake sales at various parishes and a food and clothing drive at Christmas. The class also initiated a freshman Math Club, which is a first at CC.

Remaining undefeated and unscored upon, the Freshman football team captured the parochial championship. Larry Watson saw action on the Varsity squad. Mark Kohne participated in the Sectionals and tallied four points for the Irish netters.

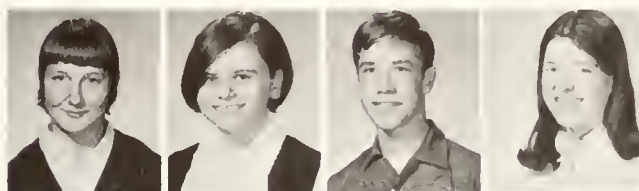

Janet Myers displays the spirit of the class of '73 during a sectional pep rally. Jan is one of the twelve fresh cheerleaders that back the little Irishmen.

With the warmth of your fire still surrounding us
we start out on our own
The chill of new adventures lure us away from your light
We try not to look back—but memories block our path like sparks flying before us
We stop, closing our eyes—to your brightness—
yet feeling your warmth touch our bodies Tears escape—
some because of the past—
others because of the future
TODAYS and yesterdays
fade into one with tomorrow springing us as challenges problems
and decisions.
A fire . . . a school
both bringing warmth and friendship light and understanding
An end and a beginning together we overcome the past separately, we face the future good life
good bye warmth
good bye

what next?

After high school, what: travel, work, service, college or technical school?

Regardless of your choice, how far you go in this space age depends partly on your imagination but primarily on your education and training. Conquering new horizons will demand more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our free-enterprise system, the backbone of our country, has given us the highest standard of living in the world and the greatest degree of individual freedom. And it offers you the opportunity to make your mark in any field of endeavor you choose.

Our showroom's not too flashy but there's a lot behind it.

The same as our cars.

Everything in front is functional. Simple. And what doesn't have a good reason for being there, isn't there.

In back is everything that keeps things going. Like VW service. Trained mechanics. Special VW tools. And all parts on hand. Or on tap.

Come in and see for yourself. We don't just talk the virtues of simplicity. We live them.

ECHO 1970 . . . between these pages are words that only those involved can read. The rest is for you.

Cathy

A special thanks go to all those who were patient with the ECHO staff during the school year and to Bob Heintzelman who made a portion of this book possible.
